

Janett Salvador

Janett is an evaluator and consultant from Mexico. She has extensive experience in the social and economic evaluation of projects, monitoring and evaluation, and processes for reviewing bids on projects and acquisitions, both in federal institutions and the private sector. For the past 15 years, she has been consulting on issues of assessment and accountability in various sectors of the federal public administration. She also teaches postgraduate courses and workshops to public officials.

Janett is a founding member and the first President of the Mexican Association of Evaluators (ACEVAL) and a Board Member of the Latin American Evaluation Network (ReLAC). As President of ACEVAL, Janett has been committed to the development of competencies in the next generation of evaluators and has promoted the establishment of EvalYouth Mexico as part of ACEVAL.